Seminar Room 3,
7F, Administration Bureau Building 2

Can Asia Recover from Crisis? Can Asia Recover from Crisis?

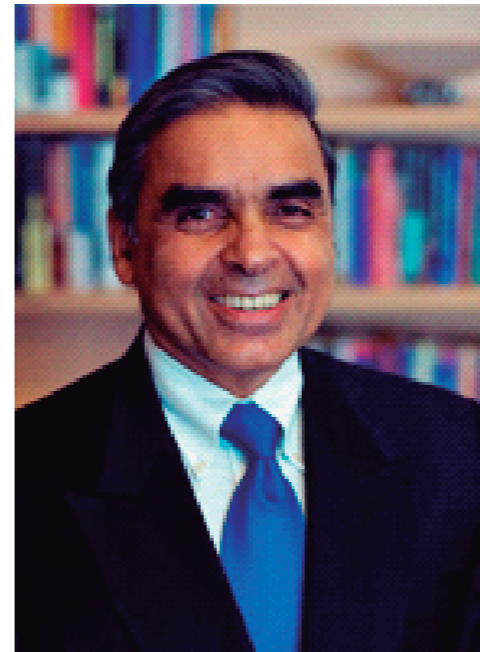

Lecture by Ambassador Mahbubani

Dean of Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy

National University of Singapore

He was a former Singapore's ambassador to UN. He is also a distinguished scholar on global governance. It is very interesting to ask him about a distinctively Asian perspective about a changing landscape of the world economy.

Profile:

Kishore Mahbubani was appointed Dean of the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy on 16 August 2004 after having served 33 years in the Singapore Foreign Service (with postings in Cambodia, Malaysia, Washington DC and twice as Ambassador to the UN, during which he also served as President of the Security Council). He was the Permanent Secretary of the Foreign Ministry from 1993-1998.

He is the author of Can Asians Think? published in Singapore, Canada, US, Mexico, India and People's Republic of China and of Beyond The Age of Innocence: Rebuilding Trust between America and the World. His new book entitled The New Asian Hemisphere: the Irresistible Shift of Global Power to the East was published in New York in February 2008. He was also listed as one of the top 100 public intellectuals in the world by Foreign Policy and Prospect magazines in September 2005.
