

Call for Papers

"Public Policy for 2020: Medium-Term Agenda with a Better Vision"

Please choose one of the sub-themes below and submit a short-essay of your research

- 1) How do we balance national interests with economic integration?
- 2) How do we formulate policy for international security and the peaceful resolution of international conflicts?
- 3) What are the roles and responsibilities of public institutions in times of crisis?

Qualifications: Current Students of GPPN schools. Each student may submit only one essay on one the above three sub-themes. Student may work individually or in groups with up to three participants

Deadline: October 16th, 2013 at 11:59pm (JST)

Applicants selected for the conference will be notified on October 28th, 2013

Submission: Send your short-essay in PDF format by e-mail to gppn.tokyo2013.graspp@gmail.com

Word Limit: 1,000 words

Conference Date: December 7th-8th, 2013 (pre-conference party on December 6th)

Accommodation: Arranged and paid by Univ. of Tokyo for the duration of the conference.

(For those who wish to arrive in Tokyo prior to December 6th, or wish to extend their stay after December 8th, the University of Tokyo can arrange accommodations but additional nights will not be covered)

<http://facebook.com/GPPN2013Tokyo>

@GPPN2013Tokyo

Search "GPPN 2013 Tokyo"

GPPN Student Conference 2013 Organizing Committee
Graduate School of Public Policy, the University of Tokyo
7-3-1 Hongo, Bunkyo-ku, Tokyo 113-0033, Japan
 gppn.tokyo2013@gmail.com