

LKY Japan Trip

The purpose of the trip is to provide opportunities for students of Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, National University of Singapore (LKYSPP) and GraSPP to study Japanese public policy through discussions and sight visits to actual stakeholders in the field of Japanese public policy, including ministries and local governments, NGOs and relevant business enterprises. The Study Trip is very popular among both LKY and GraSPP students every year, and this time is the 6th anniversary trip. There will be funding available for students who help prepare for the trip, which will cover a part of costs of the trip. This will also serve as a great opportunity to do networking between the two top schools of Asia involving major actors of public policy in Japan.
