

Completion Requirements

In order to complete the program of study at the Graduate School of Public Policy (GraSPP), you must be enrolled for two years or longer and earn 46 course credits or more. In addition, you must complete the required courses in your program (sub-specialization) and policy stream when applicable, and earn credits for them.

You may include up to eight credits earned for courses taken at the University of Tokyo's any other graduate schools or the Interfaculty Initiative in Information Studies, or faculties when calculating the required credits for completion of the GraSPP degree.

You cannot register more than 38 credits of courses in one academic year. This includes credits for Research Paper, Thesis, and/or Internship as well. Please refer to the University of Tokyo Rules for the Graduate School of Public Policy in regards to credits obtained at another graduate school or obtained before admission to the Graduate School.

Take note that you may not register for courses which have the same name as the courses for which you have already earned credits for.

Program-specific completion requirements:

- ※ A module which meets more than one completion requirement will be counted as meeting all relevant completion requirements.
- ※ Take note that if a course is not listed in the Class Subject List, it is not held in this academic year.

○ International Program (MPP/IP)

for students who enrolled in MPP/IP before March 31, 2017

Required credits number	Completion Requirements
6 credits	A minimum of six credits listed below from the field of politics and law: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Law and Public Policy</li> <li>• International Conflict Study</li> <li>• Science, Technology and Public Policy</li> <li>• Modern Japanese Diplomacy</li> <li>• Policy Process and Negotiation</li> <li>• Comparative Analysis of Japanese Economic Policy-Making Process</li> <li>• Governance and Development</li> <li>• Japanese Politics</li> <li>• Politics and Public Policy</li> <li>• Introduction to International Politics</li> <li>• Security Studies</li> <li>• Public International Law and Domestic Implementation</li> <li>• Japanese Government</li> <li>• Japanese Government and Politics</li> <li>• International Politics in East Asia</li> <li>• Introduction to Public Management</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Human Security: Asian Perspectives</li> <li>• Field Seminar in International Relations</li> <li>• Conflict Prevention and Post-Conflict Politic</li> <li>• Insurgency and Counterinsurgency</li> <li>• Transformation of Warfare and Technology</li> </ul> ※ Subjects falling under this requirement were added. When the enrollee in AY 2016 or before acquire credits of those added subjects, it is counted as completion requirements credits of this requirement. Besides, it is also counted when you have taken them in AY 2016 or before.
15 credits	Completion of economics courses below: (1) A or B A. Microeconomics for Public Policy Practice Session for Microeconomics for Public Policy B. Microeconomics Practice Session for Microeconomics Note: If you have completed and earned credit for Advanced Microeconomics I given by the Faculty of Economics or Microeconomics I given by the Graduate School of Economics and Advanced Microeconomics II given by the Faculty of Economics or Microeconomics II given by the Graduate School of Economics, you do not need to take these courses in the GraSPP program (2) A or B A. Macroeconomics for Public Policy Practice Session for Macroeconomics for Public Policy B. Macroeconomics Practice Session for Macroeconomics Note: If you have completed and earned credit for Advanced Macroeconomics I given by the Faculty of Economics or Macroeconomics I given by the Graduate School of Economics and Advanced Macroeconomics II given by the Faculty of Economics or Macroeconomics II given by the Graduate School of Economics, you do not need to take these courses in the GraSPP program (3) A or B A. Statistical Methods Practice Session for Statistical Methods B. Econometrics for Public Policy Practice Session for Econometrics for Public Policy Note: If you have already completed and earned credit for one of (a) to (f) prior to enrollment of GraSPP, you do not need to take A or B above. If you complete and earn credit for one of (e) to (g) after enrollment of GraSPP, you do not need to take A or B above. (a)Econometrics given by the Faculty of Economics (combined course with GraSPP) (b)Advanced Applied Econometrics (Graduate Level) given by the Faculty of Economics (combined course with GraSPP) (c)Advanced Econometrics (Graduate Level) given by the Faculty of Economics

	(d)Advanced Econometrics I and Advanced Econometrics II given by the Faculty of Economics (e)Basic Econometrics given by the Graduate School of Economics (f) Econometrics I and Econometrics II given by the Graduate School of Economics (g) Applied Econometrics for Public Policy and Practice Session for Applied Econometrics for Public Policy or Econometrics and Practice Session for Econometrics given by GraSPP
8 credits	A minimum of eight credits of Case Studies
32 credits	A minimum of thirty-two credits of courses offered in English
4 credits	A minimum of four credits of courses listed as Practical Training

○ International Program (MPP/IP)

for students who enrolled in MPP/IP on or after April 1, 2017

<NOTES>

Students must complete the required courses and gain credits for them in one of the policy streams of their choice from Economic Policy, Finance and Development (EPFD) or Public Management and International Relations (PMIR).

< Economic Policy, Finance and Development (EPFD) >

Required credits number	Completion Requirements
6 credits	Completion of Law and Political Science courses listed below (6 credits, including 2 credits obtained for one of the compulsory elective courses indicate with * below) Public Management <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Politics and Public Policy*</li> <li>• Introduction to Public Management</li> <li>• Comparative Political Parties and Elections</li> <li>• Policy Process and Negotiation</li> <li>• Science, Technology and Public Policy</li> <li>• Governance and Development</li> <li>• Comparative Analysis of Japanese Economic Policy-Making Process</li> <li>• Boom, Bust, and Beyond: the Political Economy of Development in East Asia</li> </ul> International Relations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Introduction to International Politics*</li> <li>• International Conflict Study*</li> <li>• Field Seminar in International Relations*</li> <li>• International Relations and Political Regimes</li> <li>• Modern Japanese Diplomacy</li> <li>• Security Studies</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Insurgency and Counterinsurgency</li> <li>• Contemporary Chinese Politics</li> <li>• Contemporary Chinese Diplomacy</li> <li>• International Politics in East Asia</li> <li>• Conflict Prevention and Post Conflict Politics</li> <li>• Global Governance</li> <li>• New Dimensions of Security in the Risk Age</li> <li>• Transformation of Warfare and Technology</li> <li>• U.S. Diplomacy toward Asia</li> </ul> Law <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Law and Public Policy</li> <li>• Public International Law and Domestic Implementation</li> </ul>
12 - 15 credits	I. Completion of Basic Economics Courses listed below (12-15 credits from all the three groups 1 to 3) 1 A or B or C A Microeconomics for Public Policy (4 credits) and Practice Session for Microeconomics for Public Policy (1 credit) B Microeconomics (4 credits) and Practice Session for Microeconomics (1 credit) C Microeconomics I (2 credits) and Microeconomics II (2 credits) offered by the Graduate School of Economics 2 A or B or C A Macroeconomics for Public Policy (4 credits) and Practice Session for Macroeconomics for Public Policy (1 credit) B Macroeconomics (4 credits) and Practice Session for Macroeconomics (1 credit) C Macroeconomics I (2 credits) and Macroeconomics II (2 credits) offered by the Graduate School of Economics 3 A or B or C A Statistical Methods (4 credits) and Practice Session for Statistical Methods (1 credit) B Econometrics for Public Policy (4 credits) and Practice Session for Econometrics for Public Policy (1 credit) C Econometrics I (2 credits) and Econometrics II (2 credits) offered by the Graduate School of Economics
8 credits	A minimum of eight credits of Case Studies offered by GraSPP
28 credits	A minimum of twenty-eight credits of courses taught in English (28 credits out of 46, double-countable)
4 credits	A minimum of four credits of courses categorized as Practical Training (4 credits out of 46, double-countable)

< Public Management and International Relations (PMIR) >

Required credits number	Completion Requirements
10 credits	Completion of Law and Political Science courses listed below <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. A and B (4 credits)               <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>A. Politics and Public Policy (2 credits)</li> <li>B. Compulsory elective courses (Choose one): Introduction to International Politics (2 credits); or International Conflict Study (2 credits); or Field Seminar in International Relations (2 credits)</li> </ol> </li> <li>2. Choose three courses from Law and Political Science courses listed below, but not to be taken twice. (6 credits)</li> </ol> Public Management <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Introduction to Public Management</li> <li>• Comparative Political Parties and Elections</li> <li>• Policy Process and Negotiation</li> <li>• Science, Technology and Public Policy</li> <li>• Governance and Development</li> <li>• Comparative Analysis of Japanese Economic Policy-Making Process</li> <li>• Boom, Bust, and Beyond: the Political Economy of Development in East Asia</li> </ul> International Relations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Introduction to International Politics*</li> <li>• International Conflict Study*</li> <li>• Field Seminar in International Relations*</li> <li>• International Relations and Political Regimes</li> <li>• Modern Japanese Diplomacy</li> <li>• Security Studies</li> <li>• Insurgency and Counterinsurgency</li> <li>• Contemporary Chinese Politics</li> <li>• Contemporary Chinese Diplomacy</li> <li>• International Politics in East Asia</li> <li>• Conflict Prevention and Post Conflict Politics</li> <li>• Global Governance</li> <li>• New Dimensions of Security in the Risk Age</li> <li>• Transformation of Warfare and Technology</li> <li>• U.S. Diplomacy toward Asia</li> </ul> Law <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Law and Public Policy</li> <li>• Public International Law and Domestic Implementation</li> </ul>
8 - 10 credits	I. Completion of Basic Economics Courses listed below (8-10 credits when the option 1 is chosen or 9 credits with the option 2)

	1 Choose two out of A, B or C A Microeconomics for Public Policy (4 credits) and Practice Session for Microeconomics for Public Policy (1 credit); or Microeconomics (4 credits) and Practice Session for Microeconomics (1 credit); or the set of Microeconomics I (2 credits) and Microeconomics II (2 credits) offered by the Graduate School of Economics B Macroeconomics for Public Policy (4 credits) and Practice Session for Macroeconomics for Public Policy (1 credit); or Macroeconomics (4 credits) and Practice Session for Macroeconomics (1 credit); or the set of Macroeconomics I (2 credits) and Macroeconomics II (2 credits) offered by the Graduate School of Economics C Statistical Methods (4 credits) and Practice Session for Statistical Methods (1 credit); or Econometrics for Public Policy (4 credits) and Practice Session for Econometrics for Public Policy (1 credit); or the set of Econometrics I (2 credits) and Econometrics II (2 credits) offered by the Graduate School of Economics 2 The following three courses A Principles of Microeconomics (2 credits) B Principles of Macroeconomics (2 credits) C Statistical Methods (4 credits) and Practice Session for Statistical Methods (1 credit); or Econometrics for Public Policy (4 credits) and Practice Session for Econometrics for Public Policy (1 credit)
8 credits	A minimum of eight credits of Case Studies offered by GraSPP
28 credits	A minimum of twenty-eight credits of courses taught in English (28 credits out of 46, double-countable)
4 credits	A minimum of four credits of courses categorized as Practical Training (4 credits out of 46, double-countable)

○ Campus Asia Program (MPP/CAP)

for students who enrolled in MPP/CAP in the academic year 2015 or 2016

Required credits number	Completion Requirements
8 credits	A minimum of eight credits listed below from the field of politics and law: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Law and Public Policy</li> <li>• International Conflict Study</li> <li>• Science, Technology and Public Policy</li> <li>• Modern Japanese Diplomacy</li> <li>• Policy Process and Negotiation</li> <li>• Comparative Analysis of Japanese Economic Policy-Making Process</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Governance and Development</li> <li>• Japanese Politics</li> <li>• Politics and Public Policy</li> <li>• Introduction to International Politics</li> <li>• Security Studies</li> <li>• Public International Law and Domestic Implementation</li> <li>• Japanese Government</li> <li>• Japanese Government and Politics</li> <li>• The Politics and Diplomacy of Contemporary China</li> <li>• International Politics in East Asia</li> <li>• Introduction to Public Management</li> <li>• Human Security: Asian Perspectives</li> <li>• Field Seminar in International Relations</li> <li>• Conflict Prevention and Post-Conflict Politics</li> <li>• Insurgency and Counterinsurgency</li> <li>• Transformation of Warfare and Technology</li> <li>• Comparative Political Parties and Elections</li> <li>• Boom, Bust, and Beyond: the Political Economy of Development in East Asia</li> <li>• International Relations and Political Regimes</li> <li>• Contemporary Chinese Politics</li> <li>• Contemporary Chinese Diplomacy</li> <li>• Global Governance</li> <li>• New Dimensions of Security in the Risk Age</li> <li>• Transformation of Warfare and Technology</li> <li>• U.S. Diplomacy toward Asia</li> </ul> ※ Subjects falling under this requirement were added. When the enrollee in AY 2016 or before acquire credits of those added subjects, it is counted as completion requirements credits of this requirement. Besides, it is also counted when you have taken them in AY 2016 or before.
10 credits	Choose two categories from (1) to (3): (1) A or B  A. Microeconomics for Public Policy  Practice Session for Microeconomics for Public Policy  B. Microeconomics  Practice Session for Microeconomics (2) A or B  A. Macroeconomics for Public Policy  Practice Session for Macroeconomics for Public Policy  B. Macroeconomics  Practice Session for Macroeconomics (3) A or B  A. Statistical Methods  Practice Session for Statistical Methods

	B. Econometrics for Public Policy Practice Session for Econometrics for Public Policy [Note] Applied Econometrics for Public Policy and Practice Session for Applied Econometrics for Public Policy or Econometrics and Practice Session for Econometrics offered until AY2015, you do not need to take these courses in the GraSPP program.
8 credits	A minimum of eight credits of Case Studies
28 credits	A minimum of twenty-eight credits of courses offered in English
4 credits	A minimum of four credits of courses listed as Practical Training
12 credits	A minimum of twelve credits transferred in total from Pecking University and Seoul National University