Besides this one, another guarantee will be provided for TE-KO Kostolac. Article 3, paragraph B (project and program loans), of the 2014 State Budget defines that a guarantee will be given to the Chinese Export Bank (Exim Bank) for the amount of US$ 608,260,000 for the implementation of the second phase of the project package TE-KO Kostolac (construction of the new power plant unit at the Drmno site and expansion of the mine). The unit planned at Serbia's Kostolac plant east of Belgrade and the expansion of the Drmno open-pit lignite mine will be 85 percent funded by the Export-Import Bank of China, Dragan Jovanovic, general manager of Thermal Power Plants and Mines Kostolac, said in Belgrade today. "We expect parliamentary approval for the borrowing by the end of the year," so construction may start in early 2014 and the Kostolac B3 unit may be commissioned in 2019, Energy Minister Zorana Mihajlovic said. Serbia, which has scaled back borrowing by unprofitable state-owned companies, will offer Exim Bank a US $608.2 million guarantee to be included in the draft 2014 budget that lawmakers are due to approve by mid-December. Since this project covers both power generation and coal mining, we discounted the amount by half ($\$0.609\text{billion} \times 0.5 = \\0.305billion)
