Argentina's Return to International Financial Markets in Historical Perspective

Speaker: Dr. Kenji Hosono

Chief Representative of JBIC in Buenos Aires
Japan Bank for International Cooperation (JBIC)

Facilitator: Prof. Toshiro Nishizawa

Monday, December 12, 2016, 18:45-20:30
Room 610, Administration Bureau Building 2

Argentina is drawing attention for the recent economic opening, liberalization, and the return to international financial markets. Mr. Hosono compares and analyzes this process with those of Argentina in 1950s and 1990s from a historical perspective.

Dr. Kenji Hosono joined the Export-Import Bank of Japan (current JBIC) in 1993. He served as a JBIC's representative in the Buenos Aires Office (1996-1998), economist at IMF (2007-2010), and also director/senior economist at JBIC's Country Credit Department among other assignments.
