Course Title	経営管理論
Faculties	大西 淳也
Course Objectives/Overview	(目標) 営利・非営利の両組織に通用する経営管理の方法論について学ぶ。 (概要) 経営管理の方法論(管理会計論)は、計数的管理実践方法の技術学(故・津曲直躬東大教授)として主に企業で発展してきたが、その考え方は営利組織のみならず、行政組織等の非営利組織にも通用する。本講義においては、この管理会計論を体系的に学ぶことにより、その基礎的な知識を取得するとともに、隣接分野である経営戦略論や生産管理論、財務管理論等の入門的な知識も含め、経営管理についての全体的かつ総合的な理解を得ることをめざす。 受講生にとっては、コンサルティング業(管理会計論は一般にマッキンゼーによる1924年の出版からとされるが、同氏は1926年に「マッキンゼー」社の前身を設立しており、両者のつながりは深い)、金融業(自社/自グループの経営管理のみならず、融資先企業の経営指導に必須。中小企業を含めれば大きな市場)、サービス業/製造業(自社/自グループの経営管理に必須)、公共部門(行政組織やNPO等、更には教育・病院等の組織運営に必須。行財政改革とも関連。最近では地方創生等にも活用)等における将来の活躍につなげることができる。 本講義はコンサルティング会社「ガバメイツ」(敬称略。以下同じ)のご協力を得てCapstone演習として実施する(但し1年次の受講も可)。そこでは、「コンサルティング会社にコンサルティングを行う」をコンセプトに、同社の胸をお借りしグループワークにより学生から提言してもらおう。これは、現に動いている「ガバメイツ」の基本的な構図をケースとして扱うことで、臨場感を持ちつつ方法論への理解をより深めることができるからである。 なお、本講義は管理会計論の考え方をテーマとするものであり、簿記等の会計知識は一切必要としない(最小限の知識は適宜補足する)。また、内容が共通することから、2022/2023年度「公共管理論II」及び2022年度「Introduction to Management Accounting in Japan」との重複履修は不可とする。

「交渉」というと何か身構えてしまう人も多いでしょうが、実際のところ誰もが毎日交渉を行っています。たとえば家庭内での会話（例えば「今夜のご飯は何にしようか？」）なども一種の交渉です。また同時に、国家間で条約を締結する際にも交渉は行われています。これら多様な「交渉」を幅広くとらえ、それらの共通点から見出された基本的な枠組みが「交渉学」です。幅広い分野の現場で適用可能であるため、現在では全米各地の専門職大学院（公共政策大学院、法科大学院、ビジネススクール、都市計画大学院など）で教えられています。

「交渉」のスキルは生まれもってのものであって、勉強や練習をしても改善は難しいと思いついて入っている人が多いと思われがちですが、実際はそうではありません。「交渉学」の枠組みを用いて反省することで、交渉に係る問題の正しい理解が可能となり、「交渉学」を念頭に実際の交渉を進めれば、適切な問題改善へとつなげることができます。

また、「交渉」の最終目標は相手を打ち負かすことではありません。むしろ、自分と交渉相手が今後共存できる方法をお互い納得できる形で見つけることが交渉の目標です。ですから、今回の講義で扱う

「交渉学」のことを「Win-Win 交渉」などと呼ぶ人もいます。また、今回の講義は公共政策における交渉と合意に焦点を当てます。個人間、企業間で行われる交渉と比べ、公共政策に関する交渉と合意形成は、その特性が大きく異なります。特に、ステークホルダーの特定、配分の公正性に対する要請、価値観に根ざした論争と熟議による対応、科学的不確実性への対応などについてこの講義を通じて十分理解を深めていただきたいと思います。なお、講義では環境政策や都市計画を中心とした事例を用いて議論を進めます。

Course Title	Advanced Academic Writing
Faculties	FAYE Singh Stanislas
Course Objectives/Overview	This course aims at taking you a step further in familiarizing you with the various rules governing academic writing including punctuation, summaries, critical reviews, opinion editorials (Op-Ed), citing sources, short and long papers, etc. As you have learned so far, writing is necessary for all students in higher education. It is a process. It starts from understanding your task. It then goes on to doing the research and reading. The next stage is planning and writing various drafts. This is followed by proof-reading and editing. All this should lead to the final text. In a nutshell, academic writing is a social exercise. Differently put, you write with an audience in mind. This means that you always write with a purpose: to inform, to explain, to persuade, to convince, etc. In other words, what you write is defined by the users in the social community as appropriate or inappropriate. In your case, these are professors, lecturers, examiners or your peers, other students. This social

	practice has developed through centuries of use by practitioners. For that reason it has to be learned by observation, study and experiment. Academic writing in English is clearly defined by having an obvious audience; a clear purpose, either an exam question to answer or a research project to report on. It is also clearly structured. Academic writing in English is linear. It starts at the beginning and finishes at the end, with every part contributing to the main line of argument, without digression or repetition. This line of argument must be made clear whatever kind of writing you are producing and you, the writer, are responsible for making this line of argument clear and presenting it in an orderly fashion so that the reader can follow.

Course Title	Exploring a New Global Governance in the Changing Geopolitical Dynamics
Faculties	WATANABE Tetsuya
Course Objectives/Overview	The course will explore a new and emerging global governance amid changing geopolitical landscape. We are living amid the unprecedented change of the global order we got so accustomed to for so long time since the end of the second world war The fundamental challenges to the global governance are;; First is the heightened geopolitical challenge. The US-China geopolitical rivalries expand to high-tech competitions for AI, Quantum Computing and Space Exploration, with semiconductors at the core of the competitions. The tensions between the superpowers have huge implications on supply chains resilience and business strategies of global companies. The War in Ukraine heightened risks globally and in Europe in particular. Second challenge is the power shift in the international political economy. Emerging countries such as India and Indonesia are now economic drivers of global growth and their voices in the global politics are increasing heard. In the meantime, the relevance of the Bretton Woods institutions such as the WTO is fading. Third is our existential challenge. Achieving net-zero carbon economy and society is common goal for every country but strategies for achieving the carbon neutral goal differ depending on specific situations of each country. The realistic roadmaps to facilitate energy transition toward the net-zero are required. The Pandemic also reminded us of the importance of improving public health. In this context, global and regional cooperation are urgently required. Fourth is supply chains resilience and rule-based international and regional economic order. The supply chains shock caused by the Pandemic and geopolitical tensions reminded us of the necessity to sustain resilient supply chains we have taken for granted for so long due to the success of the "Globalization Project", Bretton Woods System. Governments and businesses need to be prepared for the new economic realities. In these new global environments, in order to survive, we need to have acute sense

	and intelligence of what are happening in the globe and read signs emerging on the horizon. We also need historical perspectives. The course will look into a variety of aspects of global political economy, including US-China tension, energy security and energy transitions toward carbon-neutrality, changing power balance in the Indo-Pacific, entanglement of economic security with economic interdependence, digital economy and the international trading system, international environmental policy and risk management for global business. The course will also discuss how middle powers in the Indo-Pacific such as Japan, Australia, ROK and South-East Asian nations are reacting to the changing geopolitical environments in the region. The objective of the course is to help participants understand and analyze issues relevant to the today's world in the geopolitical perspectives. For this purpose, I will invite top class experts on each issue. I presume the participants interested in this course aspire to chart their own professional careers in public service, international organizations, academia or global business and start-ups. My hope is to navigate the participants to think through their own choice for the future and prepare them with the basic perspectives and knowledge. The course will be structured; the first half of the semester will be dedicated to the briefings by the esteemed experts on individual areas. The second half of the semester will be allocated to the presentation sessions by the students participating in the class. Students can choose a topic relevant to the background mentioned above.
