Application and Selection Procedure

CASE STUDY (INTERNATIONAL FIELD WORKSHOP) in S2 Term 2016

This memorandum is designed to provide prospective applicants for Case Study (International Field Workshop) with information about the application and selection procedure. The field workshop is tentatively scheduled for a period from August 16 to 27. Please find attached the course syllabus.

In order to help you better understand the objective and procedure, an information session will be held from 18:45 to 20:00 on Friday, April 22 in Room 429/433 in Engineering Department Building No. 14, Hongo Campus. Students who have participated in the past IFWs could apply again this time and might be admitted, but will not earn credits.

Those who want to register for this course should submit an essay as instructed as follows. Only those who have passed selection process based on the essay, and interview as needed, are allowed to register.

Please choose one of the target organizations listed on page 3 of the attached course syllabus and make a proposal on how you will plan to organize discussion sessions on a particular subject with professionals at the organization you select. You might want to make a proposal for more than one organization.

- 1. The essay (your proposal) should define what to be discussed as well as how to organize activities, and explain the motivation behind your proposal. Please include description on your academic interests and strengths as well as implications of the activities for your future career goals. Also, please indicate whether you are interested in an internship opportunity at the organization you select.
- 2. The length of the essay should be no more than 600 words (12-point font size) in two pages or less. Please make sure to follow this limit—otherwise, the essay will not be accepted.
- 3. Please submit your essay together with your CV by e-mail to the following addresses with the subject line starting with "IFW2016S2" followed by your family name (e.g., for example, Subject: IFW2016S2: Nishizawa).
 - TO: GSDM Office <gsdm-ppoffice@pp.u-tokyo.ac.jp>
 - CC: Toshiro Nishizawa <tnishizawa@pp.u-tokyo.ac.jp>
- 4. The deadline for the submission is 18:00 on Thursday, April 28 (Tokyo time).

Please note that important factors considered in evaluating the essay are:

- ✓ how the applicant ties his/her academic interest to the subject to be discussed at the workshop;
- ✓ how the applicant could make the good use of the proposed activity to help achieve her/his future career goals;
- ✓ how the essay reveals the applicant's maturity, professional knowledge, communication skills and leadership potential; and
- ✓ most importantly, how the proposed subject and activities attract attention and interest of professionals at the organization you select.

Case Study (International Field Workshop)

Course No. 5140730-1 S2 Term 2016 (intensive) August 16-27

In order to take this course, students need to pass a pre-registration screening scheduled for early May while the registration period for S2 courses is from Tuesday, June 14 to Monday, June 20. An information session on this course will be held on April 22 (to be confirmed on the Student Bulletin Board). Those who want to register for this course will be asked to submit an essay as instructed separately and only those who have passed selection process based on the essay will be allowed to register. The number of students allowed to participate will be limited to up to about ten due to the nature of the course involving a series of intensive on-site discussions. Students should check with the graduate school or program they are enrolled in whether financial support would be available. Please note that the course grades will be available only after September 5, 2016.

1. Objectives

This course will aim to motivate students to seek ways to collaborate with diverse stakeholders in the international fora by offering opportunities to exchange views with top management and professionals in global business entities, NPOs, research institutions and international organizations located in Asia. Planning and participating in discussion sessions with such professionals are expected to help students to identify today's societal challenges from global perspectives and to design solutions in line with the concept of the Global Leader Program for Social Design and Management (GSDM) [http://gsdm.u-tokyo.ac.jp/en/].

2. Schedule

The field workshop is tentatively scheduled for a period from August 16 to 27 to visit Bangalore, Delhi, Singapore, Jakarta and Manila. Our target organizations include those listed as follows, but will be determined based on student interests and proposals.

Those who want to register for this course will be asked to submit an essay as instructed separately and only those who have passed selection process based on the essay will be allowed to register. Essays should be written as a proposal on subject and activities well-designed to appeal to professionals at the target organization and attractive enough for them to accept our visit.
