

International Workshop at the University of California, San Diego
Application Information and Guideline

The Graduate School of Public Policy will be holding a joint international workshop with the University of California, San Diego. Those who are interested in this workshop should read the entire description before submitting an application.

Based on the submitted documents, eligible candidates will be interviewed as needed. Final candidates are selected based on their expertise, skills and sufficient English proficiency. Those who are selected for the second screening will be directly contacted with further information, including the date and time of the interview.

1) Location:

School of Global Policy and Strategy, University of California San Diego Campus

(Reference: <http://gps.ucsd.edu/>)

• La Jolla (San Diego)

*may or may not visit other areas and/or sites

2) Period (tentative):

Friday August 19th ~ Saturday August 27th, 2016

*schedule is subject to change

3) Theme:

- ① The purpose of this workshop is to understand both leading edge scientific technology and innovation's social context based on the field of medical and life science, the innovate technology and balance between actual policy making, system, and ecosystem, and the cultivation of knowledge that is based on a global perspective
- ② To learn how to create scientific technological innovative policies that relate to the field of medicine and to develop a constructive procedure that is based on evidence
- ③ To deepen understanding of ecosystem in relation to medical innovation, particularly from the Japan-US comparison view points

4) Quota: 2~3 applicants

5) Selection Process: 1. document screening 2. interview as needed

6) Application Documents:

- ① Curriculum Vitae (Free format, photo attached): One English Copy
 - ※Write your past work experiences, as well as other information, in the “Notice” section (特記事項)
 - ※Include TOEIC, TOEFL score under the “Licensee, Exams, Certificate, etc.” column (免許・試験・資格等 (その他))
- ② Entry Sheet (word file)

In addition to a statement of interest, please write a short essay that explains what kind of solution is needed to promote innovation in the field of medicine, esp. from a cross-sectorial, integrative approach. The essay should be either in Japanese within 1000 characters or 300-500 words in English.

- 7) Submission: Please e-mail all documents, titled as “Application for the UCSD workshop,” to The GraSPP International Affairs Team (国際企画チーム): exchange@pp.u-tokyo.ac.jp
*Be sure to label your name on the submitting files
- 8) Deadline: Wednesday June 29th at 23:59
- 9) Miscellaneous:
 - Basic travel expenses including round trip air fares and lodging will be provided by the Graduate School of Public Policy. All personal expenses including insurance and transportation in Japan should be paid at your own expense
 - If needed, Visa/ESTA should be obtained by yourself and at your own expense
 - After participation, a report on one’s experience needs to be submitted to the GraSPP
 - Please direct any further inquiries/questions to the International Affairs Office at the above e-mail address