3. FEATURES

Linking public policy and international relations

CAMPUS Asia program offers you a chance to expand your horizons through periods of studying international relations at Peking University and international studies at Seoul National University, while studying public policy at the University of Tokyo. Cross-cultural studies in three countries will equip you with specialized expertise and a deeper understanding of complex interrelated processes.

Gain expertise at the frontline of East Asia

Advanced-level courses in international studies at Peking University and Seoul National University are provided in English. You will be able to enroll in classes of leading academics in each country and acquire knowledge. As an added bonus, CAMPUS Asia students will also attend language classes for international students to acquire language skills in Chinese and Korean.

Form networks for the future

Students will study in the same classroom with students from China, Korea, Japan and various other countries on a daily basis, and find inspiration in the way of thinking of other students from different cultural backgrounds. It is one of the important features of this program that students will be able to form close relationships and network in a culturally diverse environment.

8. FAQ

Q: I am going to be enrolled in the Campus Asia Program. Is it possible in this program to opt to go to just one of the partner universities, either just SNU or just PKU?

A: No. In order to complete CAP, you are required to transfer credits earned at both SNU and PKU. Students cannot choose between SNU and PKU; they must study at all three universities. A three-way academic and cultural experience is the cornerstone of this program. We offer participating students a unique opportunity to broaden their intellectual horizons, and this is not negotiable.

Q: A thesis is not required at GraSPP unless students intend to enter a PhD program. What about at SNU and PKU?

A: All Double Degree students at either SNU or PKU must write a thesis at the school chosen.

Q: What levels of language proficiency in Chinese and Korean do I need?

A: Since you can take all the necessary courses at SNU and PKU in English, there is no formal requirement for you to have any knowledge of the Chinese or Korean languages. However, in order to make the most of your study and your experience, it is essential that you take steps to gain some basic knowledge of both Korean and Chinese (language "survival" skills at least, such as some simple daily conversational phrases) before you go.

8. FAQ

Q: Will I be able to take Chinese language and Korean language lessons while studying at PKU and SNU?

A: Yes. In the CAMPUS Asia Program, in principle all participating students must study the two languages other than English and their own native language during their periods of study abroad. Requirements vary.

[PKU] Chinese Language course is mandatory for non-Chinese students enrolled in dual degree programs. There will be no extra charge to take Chinese Language course in dual degree programs. For the exchange students, however, Chinese Language course is NOT mandatory but strongly recommended. The tuition for the Chinese Language course will be 18,000 RMB. However, SIS will allow the CAMPUS Asia students to audit the Chinese Language course without extra charges. In this case, no credits will be given to the students.

[SNU] GSIS will provide financial support for their Korean Language Program. Exchange students can choose classes at the Language Education Institute of SNU indicated by SNU OIA (the Office of International Affairs) and the tuition will be reimbursed by OIA partially. The reimbursement rate will be decided by OIA every semester. For Double Degree students, Tuition for Korean Language evening class at the LEI (for 1 session, 10 weeks) will be fully covered by Global Scholarship Type 3 (Korean Language Special Program). However, Double Degree students must apply Global Scholarship Type 3 separately by themselves.

Q: How many credits are required for exchange students at the other universities?

A: Among PKU, SNU, and UTokyo, we offer students to take at least three classes and nine credits at each school to give him/her the Certificate of Attendance.

Thank you.
