Vision

Concept

The Model WTO is a student initiative that provides a unique opportunity for future decision-makers to face important global issues within the simulation framework of the WTO ministerial negotiations. Every year since 1997, students from all around the world are invited to Switzerland to debate and exchange creative ideas in the exceptional context of the World Trade Organization.

Objectives

Our objective is to sensitise our student audience to the current issues of international trade, as well as to enable the participants to have a unique insight into the procedure required for adopting trade resolutions. In that sense, the Model WTO offers a remarkable experience for students to get involved in a high-level training and benefit from the expertise of WTO professionals. In addition, our goals are more than academic: we seek and encourage the exchange of knowledge, the meeting of international students from different backgrounds, and the active participation of young people in today's society.

Organisation

The upcoming conference will be held from April 5th to April 12th, 2019, at the campus of the University of St. Gallen as well as at the WTO Headquarters in Geneva. The event is organised by 8 students of the University of St. Gallen who are supported by an advisory board of experts in international trade to ensure the quality of the simulation. Moreover, the conference will be supervised by a team of 13 additional students from the University of St. Gallen who will undertake the role of Committee Chairpersons and will be actively involved in moderating the negotiations.

Topic	The Reform of the WTO

Topic – The Reform of the WTO

The discourse surrounding a reform of the World Trade Organisation has been rapidly developing. With the WTO dispute settlement system facing an imminent deadlock, and with rising trade tensions between major trading partners, the WTO is facing an existential crisis. Director General Roberto Azevêdo has emphasized the importance of a dialogue for this issue. ‘The state of this organization is an issue in which everyone has an interest, so it is important for all members to engage — whatever your perspectives may be.’

As it is of global interest to discuss the current and future state of WTO, the 22nd Model WTO Edition will give participants the task of discussing the issue. With a focus on the negotiation and litigation aspects of the debate, the final goal of our conference will be to negotiate an Agreement on the Reform of the World Trade Organisation.

Role of Participants

Delegates

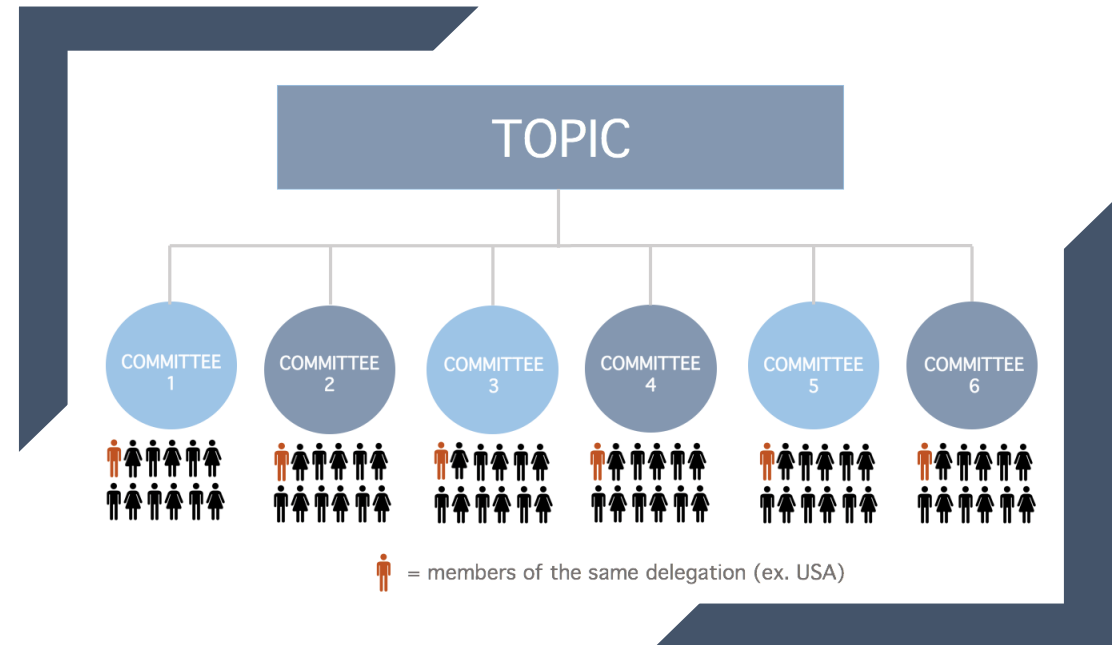

The role of the conference's participant is to represent the delegate of one of the 12 countries present in one of the 6 committees.

The delegate's main contribution comes during the negotiations of Committee resolutions during which participants are tasked with defending the views and interests of their represented countries.

Head Delegates

Head Delegates represent a group of 12 participants that set the confidential negotiation goals for one of the 12 countries they represent.

At the beginning of the week, Head Delegates are responsible for aligning the position of the delegation for the conference's debates and negotiations.

Previous Participants

“Nothing gives you a taste of real diplomacy quite like sitting in a negotiation room with twelve other delegates, hammering out a consensus document for hours at a time while fighting for the interests of your country, forming international alliances while diving into the nitty-gritty of legality and logistics, and meeting some truly exceptional people.”

Yelong Zhu - Harvard University, USA

“The Model WTO offers a unique opportunity to get an insight into the inner working of trade negotiations. The negotiation simulations were a unique experience to discuss and learn from exceptionally talented people from across the world.”

Andrew Lunardi - Oxford University, UK

“The Model WTO is run by a skillful team of students who demonstrate professionalism, commitment, and passion in arranging every detail of the Conference. The overall result is a week that definitely adds to your personal, academic, and professional spheres through a superb simulation.”

César Andrés Peniche Luna - Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, Mexico

“For the students from least developed countries and developing countries, Model WTO is the best platform to grab the opportunity to learn about international trade scenario, and provides the opportunity to learn more about how loopholes in trade agreements can be negotiated.”

Unnati Amatya - Tribhuvan University, Nepal
