授業のキーワード Keywords	The theme is 'Inequality'. This broad theme can be interpreted from many different perspectives: as well as wealth or income inequality we also witness inequality of societal outcomes and of opportunities; gender, ethnic and religious inequality; inequality resulting from the climate emergency; resource inequality; inequality between global regions but also within nation states (geographically and societally); inequality of rights; inequality of access to food, healthcare, technology and education; and inequality of personal safety. Any of these inequalities, and many others in addition, would fit within the scope of the theme of the conference. The Challenge In this context, We invite students to identify an important policy challenge in any field related to inequality and in any regional, international or national context. Proposals can incorporate public, private or hybrid approaches as appropriate. We are looking for student presentations on public policy proposals that demonstrate: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A precise identification and analysis of an important and pressing public policy problem; this precise analysis of the problem will need to be clear prior to discussion of any possible solutions • A strong use of analytics and empirics and how these can be applied to inform a solution to the public policy problem identified • An astute understanding of how policy solutions can be implemented given the interests of the policy actors in the chosen context • A clear awareness of when similar solutions have been tried in the past, why they were successful or how they can be amended in order to be successful in the future.
