

AY 2021 Graduate School of Public Policy

Overseas Exchange Program Guidelines

Objectives and conditions of the exchange

1. This exchange program is for students enrolled in the Graduate School of Public Policy; however, students who will be enrolling in GraSPP in the coming academic year may also apply. Furthermore, this program is strictly for those who already have a fundamental grasp of academic concepts and theories pertaining to their studies and who also have high proficiency in English and who also wish to use those skills to study in a different academic environment to that of the University of Tokyo. It is therefore NOT to be viewed as just an opportunity to improve one's English. Students should bear this in mind when considering an application. The main prerequisites for application are a score of 90 or higher on iBT TOEFL examination and a fundamental understanding of both micro and macroeconomics as evidenced by the successful completion of the relevant courses in either the student's undergraduate or graduate degrees. Note that the latter prerequisite is also a requirement for graduating from GraSPP (MPP/IP). Even after successful application, nomination may be cancelled if his/her overall academic performance is found to be unsatisfactory by most up-to-date transcript.
2. Even upon meeting all of the above requirements, if the destination university decides that the applicant must take supplemental classes to meet their minimum requirements, not only will the applicant be obliged to enroll in all such classes but they must also pay for all related expenses.
3. Entry procedures at the destination university, visa applications, accommodation, application for credit transfers, and all other procedures and preparations relating to the exchange are the sole responsibility of the applicant.
4. All other costs incurred that are not directly related to the exchange are the sole responsibility of the applicant.
5. There will be screening from the destination universities' committee, therefore it does not mean "all GraSPP nomination will be accepted by the destination universities."

Academic prerequisites: By the time for dispatching, it might be advantageous to take the following courses: Micro for Public Policy or Microeconomics, and Macro for Public Policy or Macroeconomics, and Statistics.

Application requirements: ※TOEFL score of at least 85 iBT is required for exchange program applicants at the GraSPP's paper screening stage.

- ① You must be a full-time student enrolled at GraSPP.
- ② You must have equivalent or higher iBT scores than 90 on TOEFL by the time of departure.

Review each school's guideline carefully

Status at destination university and tuition fees: "This exchange program allows students to study abroad at one of the partner universities whilst maintaining the status of 'exchange' at The University of Tokyo. A special, non-degree audit student status will be applied at the destination university. As stated above, tuition fees are only payable to The University of Tokyo and not to the destination university.

If a student goes on exchange to another university whilst on a 'leave of absence' from the University of Tokyo, they will also be exempt from tuition fees. However, the time spent on leave of absence will not be counted towards their degree."

Credit transfers: Credit transfers are to be applied for by the returning exchange students after their arrival back at the University of Tokyo. Class content, class time, and credits received at the destination university will all be considered when deciding upon the transfer of credits. Please be aware that not all credits applied for will be transferred. Students should schedule their exchange bearing in mind their graduation requirements. It is strongly advised that students, upon deciding which courses that they will enroll in at the destination university, verify whether or not credits for such courses can be transferred before their departure. At present, credit transfers for some Basic, Topics, and Establishment courses are possible.

Scholarships:

1. Go Global Scholarships for the Short (3 month-1 year) Study Abroad Scholarships

Brief overview: Founded in 1881 by the Paris Chamber of Commerce and Industry, HEC Paris specializes in education and research in management sciences. As a leading academic institution in Europe and worldwide, HEC Paris offers a complete and unique range of education programs for students and leaders. HEC Paris has a permanent faculty of 110 professors, 4,000 students and over 8,500 managers in executive education programs every year.

What makes HEC unique is its conviction shared by the HEC Community: knowledge determines the freedom and entrepreneurship required for a better world. This conviction is affirmed with our motto "The more you know, the more you dare".

HEC Paris' mission is twofold: training the global leaders of tomorrow, and taking an active part in the production of knowledge on management.

Model exchanges: The maximum exchange period is a year. HEC autumn semester classes commence in the first week of September and continue until December. Spring Semester classes commence in the first week of February and finish in May. Please check the website for further information.

Costs: Tuition fees are to be paid to the University of Tokyo and are not required to be paid at the destination university. However, all accommodation, living and insurance fees, et cetera, that are incurred during the exchange period are the sole responsibility of the applicant. It is strongly recommended that students investigate the associated costs of their exchange as accommodation and living costs vary greatly between locations.

Hertie School

Berlin, Germany

http://www.hertie-school.org/home.php?nav_id=363

Application requirements:

- ✧ You must have equivalent or higher scores in the following test:
TOEFL iBT 100, iBT 96 (minimum).
- ✧ Those with professional experiences are preferable.
- ✧ You must have completed the GraSPP core courses → strengthen the fundamentals, particularly an area of statistics, is recommended! "

Quota: up to 2 applicants

Exchange period: 2021.9~12 (Fall Term 2021)

Brief overview: The Hertie School, formally named The Hertie School of Governance, is a private university, founded by the Hertie Foundation in 2003. The Hertie School is Germany's first professional school of public policy. It was commended by the Berlin government in 2005 for being an institution of exceptionally high education. It is regarded as one of Europe's elite universities and a leading policy school in the world. Half of the students in the Hertie School come from abroad.

According to former students who have done their exchange studies at Hertie, the class size is relatively small, proximity to professors is close, classes consist of very diversified students body from worldwide prestigious universities (e.g. LSE, Columbia, UCLA), and there are frequent guest speakers/lectures in class.

Model exchange: The maximum exchange period is six months. Hertie autumn semester classes commence in the first week of September and continue until December. Please refer to the website for further information.

Costs: Tuition fees are to be paid to the University of Tokyo and are not required to be paid at the destination university. However, all accommodation, living and insurance fees, et cetera, that are incurred during the exchange period are the sole responsibility of the applicant. It is strongly recommended that students investigate the associated costs of their exchange as accommodation and living costs vary greatly between locations.

Based on students reports, living cost in Berlin is relatively low, student discounts apply to many local spots (e.g. museums), and thus it is basically easy to live.

Brief overview: Founded in 1994, UCLA Luskin incorporates the best practices in scholarship, research, and teaching in the fields of social work, urban and regional planning, and policymaking. The unique intersection of these disciplines within one school allows for academic cross-collaboration and a graduate education that values diverse perspectives at the macro- and micro- organizational levels. Graduates of the master's and doctoral programs are well prepared to take leadership roles and effect change as practitioners, researchers, and policymakers in the public, private, and non-governmental sectors.

PUBLIC POLICY DEPARTMENT

“The UCLA Department of Public Policy take people who are passionate about making a difference in the world and give them the tools they need to do so. Our master's program combines the best of rigorous policy education with a flexibility and responsiveness that enables us to remain relevant in a rapidly changing world. A career in public service is no longer limited to working in government. By giving students a diversified tool kit of quantitative and analytical skills and the flexibility to design their own program of study—while drawing on all the resources of one of the world's top research universities — we produce graduates who are equipped to become real leaders in policy making, wherever that process takes place.”

Model exchange: The maximum exchange period is one term (※spending two terms are not allowed).

UCLA Fall term classes commence in the fourth week of September and continue until mid-December. Winter term classes commence in the beginning of January and finish in late March. Please refer to the website for further information:
