

5th UTokyo Environment, Health & Safety Slogan Contest

1. Purpose

The Division for Environment, Health and Safety (EHS) carries out work on health and safety issues so that all members of the University can work and study in a safe environment.

This call for an environment, health and safety slogan is a continuation of the 2017 contest, which was started as an effort to prevent accidents and disasters by promoting the University members' health and safety awareness by encouraging them to carry out simple activities such as the University's health and safety activities.
