

JAPAN-CHINA RELATIONS AFTER 50 YEARS (1972-2022)

Past, Present, & Future...?

A SPECIAL INDIANA UNIVERSITY/UNIVERSITY OF TOKYO JOINT WEBINAR

Zoom registration:
<https://bit.ly/3dIN0nR>

U.S. Eastern Time: Tuesday, Sept 27th • 7:30–9:00pm

日本時間：9月28日(水) 8時30分～10時

With Japan and China set to mark the 50th anniversary of diplomatic normalization on September 29th, the Hamilton Lugar School's 21st Century Japan Politics & Society Initiative and the University of Tokyo's GraSPP Research Seminar Series will jointly convene leading U.S.- and Japan-based experts to jointly reflect on the Japan-China relationship's past, present, and future, including the implications for U.S.-Japan relations. For details and to register, please visit jpsi.indiana.edu.

On 1972's Late 20th Century Legacies:

- PROF. ROBERT HOPPENS (Univ. of Texas) on 1972 normalization, its significance, and implications
- PROF. WENDY LEUTERT (Indiana Univ.) on 1970s-80s exchanges for China's econ development
- PROF. SHIN KAWASHIMA (Univ. of Tokyo) on public opinion and history issues in the 1980s and 1990s

On Issues in Japan-China Relations Today:

- PROF. YINAN HE (Lehigh University) on China's approach and policies toward Japan
- PROF. AKIO TAKAHARA (Univ. of Tokyo) on Japan's approach and policies toward China
- PROF. ADAM P. LIFF (Indiana Univ.) on the U.S., Japan, Taiwan, and "One China" Today

HAMILTON LUGAR
SCHOOL OF GLOBAL AND INTERNATIONAL STUDIES
21st Century Japan Politics and Society Initiative

JAPAN FOUNDATION
国際交流基金

GraSPP
THE UNIVERSITY OF TOKYO

東京大学公共政策大学院
Graduate School of Public Policy